Sensory Sensations

1 - 6 years

For young children, learning experiences need to be hands-on, using a context that is familiar and of interest to them.

This five-week program will focus on each of the five senses - taste, smell, touch, sight and sound. The use of expressive language and opportunities to enjoy new experiences are highlights of this program

Children will explore a wide range of activities and experiences - from taste sensations to smelly jars to a variety of textures to lights and colours to musical sounds and ordinary, everyday noises.

By observing their surroundings from new and different perspectives, children will be reintroduced to whole new sides of the world around them.
