

Key ideas and messages we share with parents:

- Our program is play and inquiry based because research tells us that this is the way children learn best. A play based program provides the kinds of opportunities that children need to be fully engaged and to learn how to express themselves many different ways. We will be sharing our learning with and about your children in many different ways;
- What do you think is important that I know about your child to support his/her well-being?
- These are our goals for your children and this is what we will be doing with your child to support the achievement of these goals (outline the program expectations); and
- How can we support your engagement with our program so that you feel that you belong? What works for you, your schedule and your family?

i) Actively engage with community partners and provide opportunities for the children and families to develop close connections with a range of community supports.

You will see:

- Parents are welcomed at any time and are encouraged to drop in when and if they have time to do so;
- Linkages with local community partners including but not limited to:
 - Early Intervention Services
 - Preschool Speech and Language Services
 - Children's Mental Health Services
 - Nutrition Services
- Community representatives invited into the centres to build relationships and support programs including but not limited to:
 - Firefighters
 - Police officers
 - Community seniors
 - Students
- Planned excursions to community services and programs such as the local library, grocery stores and other neighbourhood locations; and
- Use of community partners as a resource and support to families, children and educators.

j) Strengthen the capacity of educators to collaborate effectively with children, families and their colleagues through the provision of ongoing opportunities for continuous professional learning.

You will see:

- Opportunities for critical inquiry – educators meeting together to report on their observations and to develop ideas and strategies for program development;
- Educators are supported and encouraged to use developmental screens such as ERIK and NDDS;

- Individual CPL plans developed with each educator;
- Educators encouraged and supported to attend professional development;
- Registered Early Childhood Educators are required by their membership in the College of Early Childhood Educators to commit to their own ongoing professional learning;
- New ideas and strategies to support children's development introduced throughout the program; and
- Materials and research shared with parents.

k) Use many languages to document and review the experiences of the children and the educators in order to:

- a. Provide an ongoing record of development;
- b. Provide tools to enable educators to reflect on the impact of their activities and strategies; and
- c. Provide a visual and oral record that enables parents to review and explore the developmental trajectory of their child.

You will see:

- Documentation posted on the walls that tells and shows you what the children are doing;
- Program planning that reflects the observations of the children; and
- Different methods of recording observations about what the children are accomplishing.

Pedagogical documentation is used as a means of gathering evidence of compliance with the approaches in the YCD Program Statement. Educators will use reflective practice and collaborative inquiry as a means to co-construct and discuss documentation.

A Commitment to Continuous Improvement

All new educators, students and volunteers are required to review the program statement prior to interaction with children in our care and any time the program statement is updated. All educators are required to review the program statement on an annual basis. This will be accomplished at an all educators team meeting which provides an opportunity to reflect on the successes and challenges of the past year and to set goals for the upcoming year.

We believe that children, families and educators are capable, competent, curious and rich in potential. We are committed to collaborating with children, their families and with each other, as educators, to create high quality early learning and care environments that take a strength based approach to learning and development in which children, parents and educators are co-learners.
